Overview

The performance management process offers a planned opportunity for the employee and supervisor to meet and mutually identify, discuss and document the demonstrated job performance and expectations.

Applicability

n/a

Policy Details

For the employee, the performance discussion:

- clarifies where he/she stands in relation to the expectations of Emory, the department and the supervisor
- assures mutual understanding of responsibilities and work assignments
• provides assistance and guidance in improving and preparing for advancement.

For the supervisor, the performance discussion:

• helps identify an employee’s performance level, growth potential, and developmental needs
• assures that the employee is fully aware of assigned duties and responsibilities
• serves as a major consideration in matters concerning employee development, promotion, transfer, retention, salary and performance improvement.

Performance discussions should occur on scheduled review dates:

Initial Review Performance discussions shall be conducted for all regular newly employed, reemployed, promoted or reclassified employees. The discussion shall be scheduled 6 months after the date of employment, reemployment, promotion or reclassification.

Annual Review Performance discussions should be conducted at least once every year. A department should be consistent in establishing the review date.

Unscheduled Discussions Unscheduled discussions may be initiated at anytime by the supervisor or at the request of the employee.

GUIDELINES

The following guidelines should apply when the supervisor is preparing for the performance management discussion:

• Establish a time and a place for the performance discussion and notify the employee well in advance.
• Provide the employee with a current copy of his/her job description.

Discuss objectively, referring to the job description, all positive and constructive feedback and incidents occurring during the period of employment covered in the discussion.

• Meet with the employee to discuss performance strengths, improvements/enhancements for each performance factor. Encourage the employee to ask questions and openly communicate with you about his/her performance.
• Discuss the employee’s performance based on the duties and responsibilities of the job. Discuss performance based on the entire performance period. Outstanding or unsatisfactory occurrences should be considered in context with total performance over the entire rating period.
• When an employee reaches an overall rating of Needs Improvement or Unacceptable, a written Performance Improvement Plan (PIP) must be developed in consultation with ER. The PIP must establish dates and times for follow-up meeting(s).
• Develop and document short and long term performance goals for projects and job assignments, to be discussed and reviewed during the next scheduled performance discussion. A time frame for completion should be agreed upon with the employee and documented.
• Allow the employee to take the lead in discussions regarding a Career Development Plan. Provide assistance in fine tuning goals and objectives, identifying resources and organizational support.

CONCLUDING PROCESS

The performance management discussion should be documented, signed, and dated by the supervisor, the department head or designee, and the employee. The signature of the employee indicates only that the discussion has taken place and not that there is agreement with the content.

Retain a copy of the documentation in the departmental file. Forward a copy to the employee and to Employee Relations for retention in the employee’s Human Resources file.
